College and Career Readiness (CCR) Anchor Standard	Standard: W.8.3d - Use precise words and phrases, relevant descriptive details, and sensory language to capture the action and convey experiences and events.
W.CCR.3 Write narratives to develop real or imagined experiences or events using effective technique, well-chosen details, and well-structured event sequences.	Questions to Focus Learning Why is precise language important? What effective techniques are used to convey descriptive details? Writers use precise and descriptive language to convey experiences. Student Friendly Objectives Knowledge Targets I know sensory details are descriptive phrases that use the five senses (e.g., If the event is a day at the beach - visual: kids building a sandcastle; sound: the lifeguard's warning whistle; smell: ocean air; taste: salt water; feeling: sand between toes). I know imagery conveys sensory details. Reasoning Targets I can determine which experiences and events need descriptive detail. I can determine which type of sensory language is appropriate for the given context. I can determine if the sensory language used provides enough detail to "capture the action" and enables the reader to visualize the event or experience. Vocabulary sensory relevant Teacher Tips
