

Excellent College Prep Websites for Students

<http://www.sparknotes.com/testprep/> ← This site has practice tests and flash cards. You need to log in to use it, but I believe it's still free.

<http://sat.collegeboard.org/home> ← This is the home for SAT. It seems to have some helpful prep material.

<http://www.khanacademy.org/> ← This is a website that has a lot of instructional videos, but I am not sure if it is only math. Worth checking out, though.

<http://www.kaptest.com/College/SAT/index.html> ← It does not appear that this has tutorials for free, but it does appear that students can sign up for online prep and tutoring.

<http://www.cliffsnotes.com/test-prep-resources.html> ← This has some materials, but no online quizzes.

<http://www.quia.com/shared/> ← This website has a lot of quizzes for different things. When I searched for SAT, it mostly shows vocabulary practice. However, by searching GRAMMAR, you can find pages of grammar quizzes and practice.

<http://www.majortests.com/sat/grammar.php> ← This site is straight-to-the-point quizzes.

<http://www.majortests.com/sat/grammar.php> ← Another site with quizzes and explanations.
