

Family Math Websites

Website		Description
http://www.ed.gov/pubs/parents/Math/		Helping Your Child Learn Math provides proven ideas and activities for families to help their children succeed in math. It is funded by the U.S. Department of Education.
http://www.figurethis.org/index.htm		Figure This! provides interesting math challenges that upper elementary and middle-school students can do at home with their families. It was developed by the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics and funded by the National Science Foundation (USA) and the U.S. Department of Education.
http://mathforum.org/parents.citizens.html	The Math Forum@Drexel	Math Forum is a site where parents, students, and teachers can use as a resource for information/research and family/student activities to help understand the current application of mathematics in the classroom and beyond.

Family Math Websites

www.mathcats.com		Mathcats contains a wide selection of open-ended math explorations for many age groups. The site map has an easy to follow menu of several activities.
http://www.nctm.org/resources/families.aspx		National Council of Teachers of Mathematics provides resources for families to help your child learn math.
www.mathlearningcenter.org/resources/families		The Math Learning Center is a non-profit group developed to provide quality resources and curriculum to teach and learn mathematics.
http://www.mec-math.org/math-at-home		MEC's vision is for every student and teacher to be powerful users of mathematics. They envision the mathematics classrooms as a place where all children and teachers: think, reason, and use mathematics to make sense of the world around them. MEC's mission is to work in concert with educational communities to make this vision a reality.

